II. PURPOSE

At Kredietrust, sustainability is at the heart of our business and drives our investment approach. Active ownership is a fundamental part of our investment process.

We believe we can create better outcomes for our clients by actively engaging when we invest. Our investment policy emphasises our ability to create positive change by being active owners, which we believe to be vital to improving long-term investment returns for our clients. Actively exercising the influence we have as an investor and investment manager is consistent with both the fiduciary duties we have for our clients and our objective to be a sustainable company.

Active ownership involves monitoring the investments we make, identifying environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues, strategic problems, or opportunities for improvement, engaging with investment managers or management teams, voting at general meetings, and other efforts to encourage positive change for the long-term benefit of our clients and the world.

Kredietrust regards exclusions as a last resort, when active ownership has proven unsuccessful, or is infeasible, and further investment would be incompatible with our principles and the best interests of our clients.

Since we also invest client assets with other asset managers, we hold them to the same high standards regarding active ownership, and we engage with those managers to ensure that they are active owners on behalf of our clients.

The Active Ownership Group (“AOG”) operationalizes the Active Ownership Policy. The AOG consists of members from different disciplines and functions within Quintet group including one representative of Kredietrust and meets periodically to discuss the strategy, implementation, and progress.

2.1. Relevant codes, principles, and best practices

Active ownership is one of the six Principles for Responsible Investment \(PRI\) of which Quintet group is a signatory. Principle Two states “We will be active owners and incorporate ESG issues into our ownership policies and practices,” a principle we endorse.

Kredietrust’s active ownership policy also draws to a large extent on globally recognised best practices and international governance frameworks and principles, such as the International Corporate Governance Network (ICGN) statement on Global Governance Principles, United Nations Global Compact and United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.

To implement the policy, Kredietrust and its service providers use guidelines which consider geographical differences in regulations and practices.

III. SCOPE & TARGET POPULATION

Our active ownership policy applies to Rivertree Fd, Rivertree Equity, Rivertree Bond and Essential Portfolio Selection funds and to their direct corporate investments in both equity and debt securities as well as 3rd party funds.

IV. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- Engagement: The primary focus of Kredietrust’s engagement is to address companies’ key risks, challenges, and opportunities, covering environmental, social, governance, strategy, risk and communication matters. The four priority engagement themes are detailed in section (i) climate change, (ii) human and labour rights, (iii) human capital management and (iv) board effectiveness.
- Proxy Voting: The primary focus of Kredietrust’s voting decisions is good governance of the organisation, including the management of material environment and social risks. Our voting policy draws upon the expertise of our external service provider, emphasises governance, environmental, and social matters as set out in section 5.2.
- Transparency: Quintet Group aims to publish an active ownership report annually, on investee companies that the group owns and which covers voting and engagement activities. As part of its ongoing commitment to transparency, Quintet discloses all its voting decisions online including those of Kredietrust.
- Managing Conflict of Interests: Kredietrust exercises voting rights solely in the general interest of its clients, irrespective of its own interests, and in compliance with its guiding principles as noted in section 5.5.

V. POLICY PROVISIONS

5.1. ENGAGEMENT

5.1.1. Engagement principles

The primary focus of Kredietrust’s engagement is to address companies’ key risks, challenges, and opportunities, covering environmental, social, governance, strategy, risk and communication matters. Our ultimate objective is to create value for investors, the company, and people and the planet.

Since Kredietrust represents a diverse group of clients with diverse holdings, we invest in a wide range of companies. As many of these companies are large, our direct investments may be small relative to the size of the firm. To be effective in engaging with these companies, we believe that collaborative engagement is likely to achieve better results than efforts we might undertake on our own. Quintet Group has therefore hired a specialised external service provider to conduct engagement on its (including Kredietrust) behalf. In cases where collaborative engagement is not practical, we may undertake direct engagement ourselves with the companies we invest in.

Quintet Group has instructed its engagement partner to give special attention to companies that violate the principles of the UN Global Compact, or that are involved in significant ESG controversies. The engagement priorities continue to be focused on the most material drivers of long-term value, with four priority themes: climate change, human and labour rights, human capital management and board effectiveness and ethical culture. Engagement priorities are reviewed annually, and we provide our insights and priorities as part of the priority-setting process with our service provider.

Climate change is an ongoing priority. Quintet Group is a member of Climate Action 100+, a collaborative investor engagement initiative that seeks to ensure that the world’s largest corporate greenhouse gas (GHG) emitters take action to reduce GHG emissions. We believe this is a logical step to protect our planet, as we recognise the importance of climate risk for our investments. Investors participating in Climate Action 100+ engage the world’s largest 100 “systemically important emitters” and 60 other companies that have been identified as being key to the transition to a net zero emissions economy.

5.1.2. Engagement priorities (2022-2024)

Quintet Group has instructed its engagement partner to engage on its behalf. The engagement priorities 2022-24 will continue to focus on the most material drivers of long-term value, with a focus on four priority themes¹:

- Climate change: In the lead-up to COP 26, over 3,000 companies committed to achieve net-zero emissions. However, an analysis of the largest emitters in the world showed that while approximately 50% had net-zero goals, only 20% had short and medium-term emissions reduction targets and only 7% had targets aligned with the Paris Agreement goals. The emphasis of our engagement is therefore on matching long-term commitments with a Paris-aligned strategy and targets. We also support action to ensure that published financial accounts and political lobbying are similarly aligned. Engagement is now broadening out to include the banks, ensuring that their net-zero ambitions match those of asset managers. The Glasgow Financial Alliance for Net-Zero brought together a broad coalition of financial actors representing in aggregate $130 trillion of financial assets, including $57 trillion or approximately 50% of global assets under management. This broad commitment opens up the prospect of further collaborative and escalated engagements with companies. We will continue to support action at Climate Action 100. As the climate changes, and extreme weather events become more frequent and severe, it will be important for companies to demonstrate that they have a physical risk strategy.

- Human and labour rights: As we continue to engage on this enduring priority theme, we will seek to ensure increased vigilance in the protection of human and labour rights during and following the coronavirus pandemic, which is exacerbating inequalities, increasing the risks of unacceptable working conditions such as modern slavery and low pay and limiting access to fundamental needs such as food and medicine, including effective coronavirus vaccines. We continue our focus on indigenous and community rights and on high-risk regions such as disputed territories or areas of conflict. We will further focus on digital rights in the virtual world, such as challenges to the right to data privacy, the right to freedom of expression and discrimination through the development of artificial intelligence. We will continue to promote corporate application of the UN Guiding Principles (UNGPs) on Business and Human Rights at 10 or UNGPs 10+ – the next decade of implementation of the UNGPs. We will also focus on escalated breaches of the UN Global Compact principles for human rights including considering voting against directors if not being adequately remediated.
- Human capital management: The coronavirus pandemic has shone a light on employers' treatment and engagement of their workforce. In 2022, we will focus our engagement with companies on providing fair wages and benefits so all can afford a decent living standard, as well as development and implementation of a human capital management strategy to promote best practice physical (including health and safety) and mental workplace wellbeing. Furthermore, we will continue our focus on diversity, equity, inclusion and representation; asking companies to develop a strategy and action plan to close the ethnic pay gap and achieve proportionate ethnic and gender representation at all levels. We will also challenge companies to expand their consideration of diversity metrics to include representation and equity for the e strategies should include articulation of culture and employee proposition to improve workforce loyalty and wellbeing.
- Board effectiveness: To enhance the quality of board performance and corporate decision-making, we will focus on ensuring that boards make improvements to ethnic diversity that at least match the recent progress on gender diversity. The goal will be for the board to achieve representation that is reflective of the diversity of the stakeholders it aspires to serve. We will also ask boards to reconsider the lessons of the pandemic, including the possibility for more internationally diverse board appointments, enabled by more effective remote working practices. We remain committed to improving a board's "software", relating to how it functions, in addition to its "hardware" (relating to its composition and structure). The board should continuously monitor and assess the prevailing company culture to ensure it is in line with company's purpose, strategy and values.

In addition to the engagement priorities, we will pursue further engagement in these fast-growing areas:

- Biodiversity: We will focus engagement on halting and reversing biodiversity loss at companies that are involved in the production and retailing of food, as well as exacerbating anti-microbial resistance. As a priority companies must identify, assess and measure their impacts and dependencies on biodiversity and ecosystem services. They must reduce their impacts on biodiversity across the value chain following the mitigation hierarchy and aim for a net-positive impact on biodiversity as best practice. Depending on the specific company context, engagement will cover issues including deforestation, regenerative agriculture, sustainable proteins and chemical runoff management.

- Fast fashion: We will engage with apparel companies on their environmental and social impacts. We will push companies to acknowledge the need to move to a circular business model and assess the risks to the business from its environmental impacts, including the supply chain and disposal. We urge companies to set science-based greenhouse gas emissions reduction targets and time-bound targets for sustainable materials. Furthermore, we will engage on the management of salient human rights risks in companies' value chain. The pandemic has also highlighted the risks to business as human activity pushes towards and even beyond planetary boundaries. Therefore, in addition to tackling the climate crisis, we now expect companies to put in place strategies to achieve a net-positive impact on biodiversity, eliminate deforestation and avoid contributing to the development of antibiotic-resistant "superbugs". Finally, companies must put in place more comprehensive risk management systems to support long-term resilience to the risks of unforeseeable business impacts.
- Digital rights: We will publish high-level expectations on digital rights in 2022. Digital products and services can play a critical role in strengthening human rights but have also brought unanticipated harms and new challenges. We will engage with companies on negative societal impacts including problematic content on social media; misuse of artificial intelligence; health and safety impacts on children and young people; and environmental and social impacts in hardware supply chains. We expect companies to balance freedom of expression with obligations to remove problematic content and take actions to respect privacy rights online.

5.1.3. Third party engagement

We believe engagement and proxy voting for equity funds are crucial elements to assess and influence the behaviour of investee entities.

Kredietrust allocates a significant portion of its client's assets to external managers. In addition to engagement for direct lines, Kredietrust – through Quintet Group Fund Selection Team - engages with external fund managers. Active ownership to create sustainable investor value is important for all investments, and we incorporate this conviction into the selection and monitoring of external managers. We also engage with these managers to communicate our beliefs and to understand theirs, and for insight into their active ownership policy and practice.

We urge funds to be transparent about the way they have implemented sustainability into their portfolios and how they have executed their sustainable fiduciary responsibilities. We require all funds held to act as active owners and engage with the companies they invest in and use proxy voting where applicable. (see fund due diligence process for more information).

5.2. PROXY VOTING

5.2.1. Voting principles

The primary focus of Kredietrust's voting decisions is good governance of the organisation, including the management of material environment and social risks. Governance structures that drive performance, create shareholder value and maintain a proper tone at the top are key to mitigating risk and building long-term shareholder value. Boards that work to protect and enhance the best interests of shareholders are independent, diverse, have a record of positive performance, and members with a breadth and depth of relevant knowledge and experience.

Our voting policy, which draws upon the expertise of our external service provider, Glass Lewis, emphasises governance, environmental, and social matters. We have partnered with Glass Lewis, a proxy voting provider, to provide research and technically implement voting. The Active Ownership Group reviews in detail voting when the investment is large or when there is an increased level of controversy, or on request from members of our investment team, as further explained in APPENDIX 2 – VOTING EXECUTION.

5.2.2. Voting priorities

I. Composition, independence, and accountability of the board

The composition of boards should aim at generating objective decision-making to deliver sustainable value to shareholders and other stakeholders of the corporation. The board should act on an informed basis and in the best long-term interests of the company with good faith, care and diligence, for the benefit of all shareholders and key stakeholders.

Kredietrust believes that boards should work to protect and enhance the best interests of shareholders and key stakeholders. To exercise proper governance, boards should be independent, have directors with diverse backgrounds and perspectives, have a record of positive performance and have members with a breadth and depth of relevant experience. Board composition should consider the expertise necessary to understand and address emerging risks facing the company and the necessary skills and experience should be present on the board and in its committees.

Our voting services provider has codified their approach to reviewing how boards are overseeing environmental and social issues. In instances where it is clear that a company has not properly managed or mitigated environmental or social risks to the detriment of shareholder value, or when such mismanagement has threatened shareholder value, we may vote against members of the board who are responsible for the oversight of environmental and social risks.

We notably consider in voting decisions the tenure of individual board members, the average tenure of the board, male-female ratio, number of boards or executive positions held by the member, independence and relevant experience or expertise. We support commitment to establishing broad sustainable business practices and review on the disclosure of ESG risk related issues.

We vote against directors (non-executive) serving more than five boards or voting against executive directors serving more than two boards. We vote against the male members of the nominating committee where the board gender diversity requirements are not met, which are different across geographies.

II. Disclosure and transparency

Boards should oversee timely, relevant, and high-quality company disclosures for investors and other stakeholders relating to financial statements, strategic and operational performance, corporate governance and material environmental and social risks.

Kredietrust believes that the auditor's role is crucial in ensuring the integrity and transparency of the financial information necessary for protecting shareholder value. Because of the importance of the role of the auditor, rotating auditors is an important safeguard of the independence of the auditor. We vote against auditor ratification proposals in instances where a company's auditor has not changed for 20 or more years.

III. Long-term sustainable value creation

Kredietrust expects companies to understand the governance, environmental and social risks they face as well as the positive and negative impacts their business decisions have on stakeholders. Furthermore, Kredietrust expects companies to be transparent to their shareholders and key stakeholders about what these risks and impacts are, and how they are being managed. In addition, boards should provide adequate oversight of ESG issues and be prepared to discuss their long-term plans for sustainable value creation with investors.

When considered material to the business or its stakeholders, Kredietrust generally support environmental and social shareholder proposals aimed at enhancing a company's ESG policies and performance or increasing a company's reporting and disclosures with respect to such issues.

IV. Executive compensation and alignment with long-term interests of shareholders and key stakeholders

Executive compensation structures should be designed to effectively align the interests of the CEO and executives with those of the company, its shareholders and key stakeholders to help ensure long-term performance and sustainable value creation. Compensation programs should not restrict the company's ability to attract and retain executives and should also consider best practices in the relevant market.

Kredietrust believes that to ensure alignment of executive and shareholder interests, executive compensation should be underpinned by relevant and objective Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) related to areas that are material to the company's long performance and sustainable value creation, which includes non-financial targets. Furthermore, executive compensation programs should be disclosed to shareholders in a transparent way and be subject to shareholder approval.

Given the complexity of most companies' compensation programs, Kredietrust believes that compensation needs to be reviewed on a case-by-case basis, recognising that each company must be examined in the context of industry, size, maturity, performance, financial condition, its historic pay for performance practices and other relevant internal or external factors.

We support inclusion sustainability metrics in executive compensation plans. We encourage annual advisory compensation votes. We vote against say-on-pay proposals in case of potential severe disconnect between pay and performance, and where sustainability is not an explicit consideration for companies when awarding executive compensation and we have concerns regarding the pay and performance link.

V. Rights of shareholders

The rights of all shareholders should be equal and adequately protected. Fundamental to this protection is ensuring that shareholder voting rights are directly linked to the shareholder's economic stake, and that minority shareholders have equal voting rights on key decisions or transactions which affect their interest in the company.

Kredietrust is an advocate of increased shareholder participation and access to a company and its board of directors. Processes and procedures for general meetings of shareholders should allow for equal treatment of all shareholders. Companies should avoid creating unnecessary hurdles for investors to cast their vote in a timely and cost-effective manner.

Kredietrust generally support initiatives that seek to enhance shareholder rights, such as the introduction of majority voting to elect directors, the adoption and amendment of proxy access bylaws, the elimination/reduction of supermajority provisions, the submission of shareholder rights' plans to a shareholder vote, and the principle of one share, one vote.

VI. Shareholder proposals

Kredietrust supports shareholder proposals that aim to enhance and protect shareholder rights and that seek to adopt more sustainable practices and enhance transparency on current practices.

When voting on environmental proposals, we take into account the impact companies have on the environment, as well as the risks they may face by not adopting environmentally responsible policies. We believe systematic risks, such as those related to climate change, are issues that companies need to manage with high priority. We generally support proposals seeking to adapt more ambitious environment objectives and improve disclosure about company practices that impact the environment.

When analysing social proposals, we consider the communities and broader constituents in the areas in which companies do business. We generally support proposals requesting that companies provide greater disclosure about their impact on local stakeholders, as well as employee and human rights. We support proposals seeking increased disclosure on public health and safety issues, review of political spending or lobbying, reporting on compliance with international human rights standards and transparency on various social issues.

5.3. Transparency

Quintet Group publishes an active ownership report annually. This report covers its voting and engagement activities with investee companies (one page of this report issued by Quintet Group is dedicated to Kredietrust's activity).

As part of its ongoing commitment to transparency, Quintet Group discloses all its voting decisions online, including those of Kredietrust. Voting decisions are available as soon as possible after meetings take place, and our rationale is included where appropriate. All the votes we have cast over the past 12 months are available. Managing conflicts of interest.

Kredietrust exercises voting rights solely in the general interest of its clients, irrespective of its own interests, and in compliance with its guiding principles.

If exercising its voting right for a given company exposes Kredietrust to a conflict of interest. Such conflict will be managed in accordance with Quintet Group Conflict of Interest Policy. Additionally, the active ownership group may seek Compliance advice.

VI. GOVERNANCE

6.1. 1st line of defence

The first line of defense is responsible for controlling their risks and for ensuring an effective monitoring and controls environment is in place to meet all policy requirements as laid out in this document. Create process and procedures to make sure policy implemented. Escalate any concerns related to the interpretation of this policy.

6.2. 2nd line of defence

Risk Management oversight the management of the risks through the independent risk controls.
